Thanksgiving Celebration

Around 110 people attended the American Society Thanksgiving celebration on Thursday. The food was excellent and beautifully presented, thanks to over a week of preparation by volunteers and AmSoc staff.

Betty Drummond and Delmy Romero

Among the volunteers we have to thank are Cliff and Cam Esser; Louise Mattos, who not only did a lot of work herself, but also brought her maid Gloria to help in the kitchen. Other contributors were Regis Soileau, Chuck Parsons, Jim Watkins, Dalton Lancaster, and Stan Kroprowski. Rocío's daughter, Carla was also a great help. Special thanks go to Rocío Huerta and Lupita Elizondo, who endured long hours in the kitchen, and Al Klob, who ably and patiently managed the bar. Thanks to Carlos for the photography.

Thanks to Bruce Newby and David Ruiz who donated a holiday basket and bottle of tequila respectively.

John Griffin, Tim Welch, David York
and Jackson Carter

Prize winners in the draws were Kathleen Brennan, who won a bottle of tequila; Martha Garcia, a bottle of wine; and Dalton Lancaster, a holiday basket. Dalton very generously returned the basket to be raffled with the proceeds to go to Lupita and Rocío. Coty Collins was the lucky bidder at $300 pesos.

Regis, Cliff and Cam

Departing Friends

Thanksgiving wasn't an entirely joyful occasions at AmSoc as we were saying goodbye to some dear friends. Jack and Alice Sinon who left for their new home in Norfolk, Virginia this weekend. They will be deeply missed by everyone who has had the pleasure of knowing them during their annual visits to Guadalajara. Let's hope they will still be able to pay us a visit from time to time.

Jack and Alice receive a certificate of appreciation for their long-time friendship and support of The American Society.

How did it originate?

Uncle Sam

The American icon Uncle Sam was in fact based on a real man, albeit a beardless one.

Samuel Wilson, a businessman from Troy, New York, provided the army with beef and pork in barrels during the War of 1812. The barrels were prominently labeled "U.S." for the United States, but it was jokingly said that the letters stood for "Uncle Sam." Soon, Uncle Sam was used as shorthand for the federal government.

Legend of Santa Claus

Saint Nicholas was born to a wealthy Christian family in Patara (near Myra in what is now Turkey) around 280 AD. He was so kind and pious that he helped anyone who came his way and soon many legends about his good deeds became popular.

Later, he became the Bishop of Myra. He had inherited a large property, which he used from time to time to help the poor and the sick. He traveled anonymously in the night to ensure that all of his parishioners were well fed and happy.

Later, he became popular as the protector and the patron saint of children. His feast is celebrated on the anniversary of his death, December 6..

His popularity kept growing and by the Renaissance, he was the most popular saint in Europe. Even when Protestants discouraged the veneration of saints, St. Nicholas continued to enjoy his status and positive reputation and remained one with Christmas forever.

The name Santa Claus originated in America. It comes from the Dutch Sinterklaas, which came to the New World by the Dutch settlers in New York.

His current image of a jolly fat man with a beard evolved during the 19th century. Many people believe, erroneously, that his red and white outfit was invented by Coca Cola. However, the company did use the image in its advertising in the 1930s.

Remember the Cat-lady

This is the traditional season of giving and I can think of no more worthy recipients of our gifts than Barbara Murray and the Humane Society. Barbara devotes her life and personal resources to rescuing and giving a home to abandoned and abused cats. She provides a clean, safe, and healthy environment for them, as well paying for veterinary service when needed. At times, she has as many as twelve cats living in her sanctuary, and never refuses to receive a cat in need.

When I spoke to her on Thursday, she mentioned that the price of cat food and other supplies are increasing steadily, and she only gives them the best.

I have been to Barbara's house and seen how well she takes care of the cats, and the affection they receive from her, but it is a big burden for one person. Let's help her.

Cash donations are preferable. All donors receive a Humane Society receipt. There is a young, long-hair white female named Cassy available for adoption, although Barbara grows so attached to her animals; she finds it very hard to part with any of them. Vicki Wootton

Please leave donations at AmSoc where they will be passed on to Barbara.

What you should know about visiting and living in Mexico

Immigration

Immigration is under the oversight of the National Institute of Immigration - Instituto Nacional de Migración (INM)

In Mexico, there are 3 distinct immigration statuses. They are:

- No Inmigrante (Non immigrant) FM3 VISA - some short term visits of a non immigrant nature are not issued an FM3, these conditions are stipulated in the Law of Population.
- Inmigrante (Immigrant) FM2
- Inmigrado (Immigrated person) Permanent resident.

FM3 Visa - A Non immigrant - is person who enters the country temporarily, for several days or several years for various reasons, but without the intention of residing permanently in Mexico.

The NON IMMIGRANT Visa is issued in eleven different categories, most, except for short term visits, require the application for an FM3 VISA, and these are stipulated in the Law of Population, which are as follows:

1. Tourist: This category grants a simple paper Visa and does not require applying for an FM3. Tourist is a person who enters the country for recreation, health, artistic, cultural or sports activities - activities that are not profitable or compensated. This permit is issued for a maximum of six months and is NOT renewable.
2. Trans migrant: is the person in transit to another country who travels through Mexico for up to 30 days, this permit is NOT renewable.
3. Visitor: is the foreigner who enters Mexico for a specific profitable or non profitable activity and is granted for up to one year.
4. Minister of a religious group or association: is renewable every year for five years.
5. Political asylum: This is for the foreigner who enters Mexico to protect his/her "liberty or life from political persecution.
6. Refugee: This is for the foreigner that enters Mexico to protect his/her "life, safety, or liberty.
7. Student: a Non immigrant Visa must change to an immigrant visa if he/she want to practice the profession in Mexico.
8. Distinguished visitor: Is the foreign scientist or humanist of international prestige.
9. Local visitor: is the foreigner authorized for visiting maritime ports or border cities for less than 3 days.
10. Temporary visitor: Are all foreigners for up to a 30 days stay when landing at maritime ports or airports.
11. journalist

INMIGRANTE (IMMIGRANT) Visa FM2

An immigrant is the foreigner who enters Mexico legally for the purpose of remaining permanently in the country, until he obtains the status of Inmigrado (Immigrated person or permanent resident). This status requires applying for an FM2 Visa. The FM2 Visa is extended (refrendo) every year for five years. At the end of five years, the foreigner can apply for another FM2 visa or request a Declaration as an Immigrated Person (Declaratoria de Inmigrado) Once the status of "INMIGRADO" is granted, the foreigner can live and be involved in any legal activity in Mexico. This status is permanent and does not require further renewals or extensions. There are 9 categories of immigrant visa (FM2); they are as follows:

1. Independent income.
2. Investors.
3. Professional.
4. Positions of confidence.
5. Scientist.
6. Technician.
7. Family members.
8. Artists and athletes.

9. Assimilated persons.

INMIGRADO - IMMIGRATED PERSON

The FM2 Visa is extended (refrendo) every year until completing five years. At the end of five years, the foreigner can apply for another FM2 visa or request a "Declaration as an Immigrated Person" (Declaratoria de Inmigrado). Once the status of inmigrado is granted, the foreigner can live and be involved in any legal activity in Mexico. This status is permanent and does not require further renewals or extensions. The person with this status can request Naturalization from the Secretary of Foreign Relations or stay with this status permanently.

The Museo de Paleontología de Guadalajara is located in the southeast corner of Parque Agua Azul. This is a lovely museum with an extensive collection of exhibits.

At the museum entrance there is an awesome colour mural illustrating prehistoric life. All exhibits are displayed attractively, but the pièce de resistance is a transparent walkway over Ice Age elements such as saber-tooth tigers.

Towards the exit there is an upstairs room containing an interactive computer display of famous Egyptian sites such as the Great Pyramids of Giza and the Temple of Karnak at Luxor. Use a joystick to "walk" around in these impressive Egyptian surroundings.

There is a small entrance fee. Hours are 10:00 am to 6:00 pm Tuesdays to Saturdays and 11:00 am to 6:00 pm Sundays. © Pauline Van Havere
